SABELA LOGIC HOLDINGS · QUOTATION WALKTHROUGH · DOC-04

Zastron constituent portal

An itemised build for Mohokare Local Municipality, FS163. The specimen, the languages, the manager's desk, the phone page, and the tasks that shorten the queue. Each line has a plate, a library, and the arithmetic.

THE ASK · PROFESSIONAL FEES

R 1 205 800

Phases A, B and C, plus twelve months of care. VAT is additional and is calculated on the addition page. Phase A plus care, R 751 800, remains open if Council wants the gateway first. Zastron, Matlakeng, Rouxville and Smithfield are inside this figure, not a later extra.

The Eye of Zastron, on Aasvoëlberg. The cliff photograph in the specimen must have its rights cleared before go-live. This document is a proposal. It is not a bid under the supply-chain rules, and it does not bypass them. Nothing in the demonstration writes to a municipal system. Directories do not agree on the mayor's name, so this quotation does not print one. Mr L. Mkhwane is addressed as the municipal manager.

BEFORE THE LINES

One line, one page, one sum.

There are twenty-one lines. Twenty are professional build. The twenty-first is care. A page is always the same shape, so a finance officer and a councillor can use it the same way.

The headline

Names the thing being bought. Rates are not a single blended mystery. Each line shows its own.

The plate

Where the line already exists in the working pages, the plate is a screenshot taken on 25 October 2026 from the Zastron specimen. Where the line is a workshop, a training day, a specification or a board that is not built yet, the plate is an illustration drawn for this quotation. Those plates are marked. They are not photographs of officials, except the portrait of Mr L. Mkhwane already on the specimen.

The library

What Council actually receives. Exclusions sit in the same paragraph, so a missing tariff or a missing SMS gateway is not discovered in a footnote.

The calculation, on the right

Hours times rate, or months times the monthly care figure. Under that, the brought-forward amount and the running total. The running total on line 21 is R 1 205 800. If it were anything else, this document would be wrong.

The three phases

A. Constituent gateway. The pages in the specimen, hardened for go-live. R 663 000.

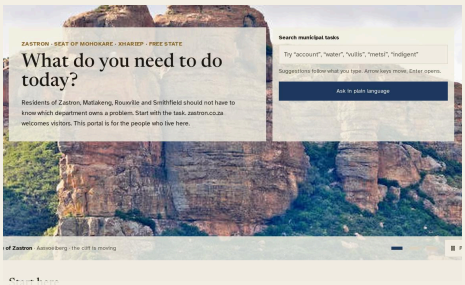

B. Tasks that shorten the queue. Account, fault, indigent, documents, notices. R 301 000.

C. Only after the numbers can be trusted. A billing specification, a water board, a PAIA channel. R 153 000.

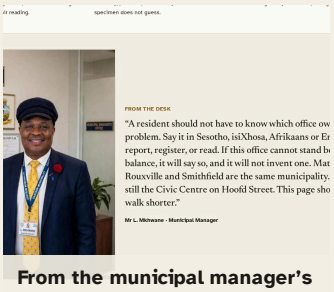

Care. R 7 400 a month for 12 months, R 88 800, including Cloudflare Workers hosting.

THE BELLS AND WHISTLES

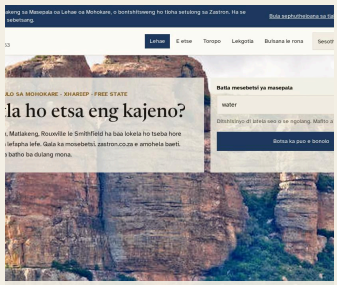

Already on the specimen. Already in the lines.

None of these is a hidden extra. If it is on the working site, it is named against a line below. The only figures outside the R 1 205 800 ask are on the terms page: sworn translation, SMS, a vendor who will not open an interface, a visitor layer, a live language model, and the two trips.

LINE 01 OF 21

Discovery workshops

Plate drawn for this quotation. Not a photograph of the chamber, and not a portrait of any official.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

Two days in Zastron with communications, finance enquiries, technical services, and residents from the dorp, Matlakeng, Rouxville and Smithfield. The library from those days is a task inventory: sentences a person actually says (“I want to report a sewer spill”), each with an owner inside the municipality and a note of what already exists. It is not an organogram and it is not a strategy. Council can amend the list before a line of the build is treated as fixed.

LINE 02 OF 21

Audit of the two existing sites

Plate drawn for this quotation. The two doorways stand for mohokare.gov.za and zastron.co.za. Neither site is reproduced here.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

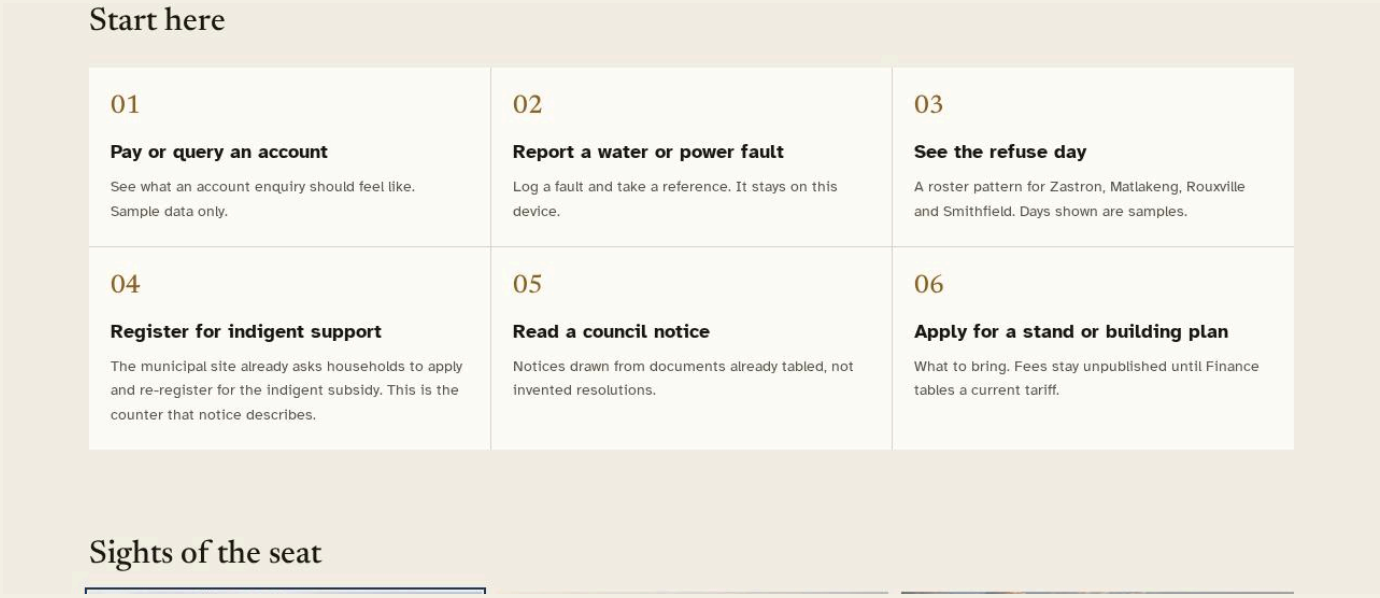

A gap register against the official English site and the visitor directory. mohokare.gov.za follows the organogram and a pile of PDFs. zastron.co.za tells a visitor where to stay. Neither lets a resident finish a task in Sesotho. Each row names a broken task, an English-only page, a missing tariff, or a notice that appears twice, and gives it a fate: keep and redirect, rewrite, or retire.

Intention architecture

The working pages, 25 October 2026. “I want to…” is the navigation: the resident’s sentence, not the department’s name.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

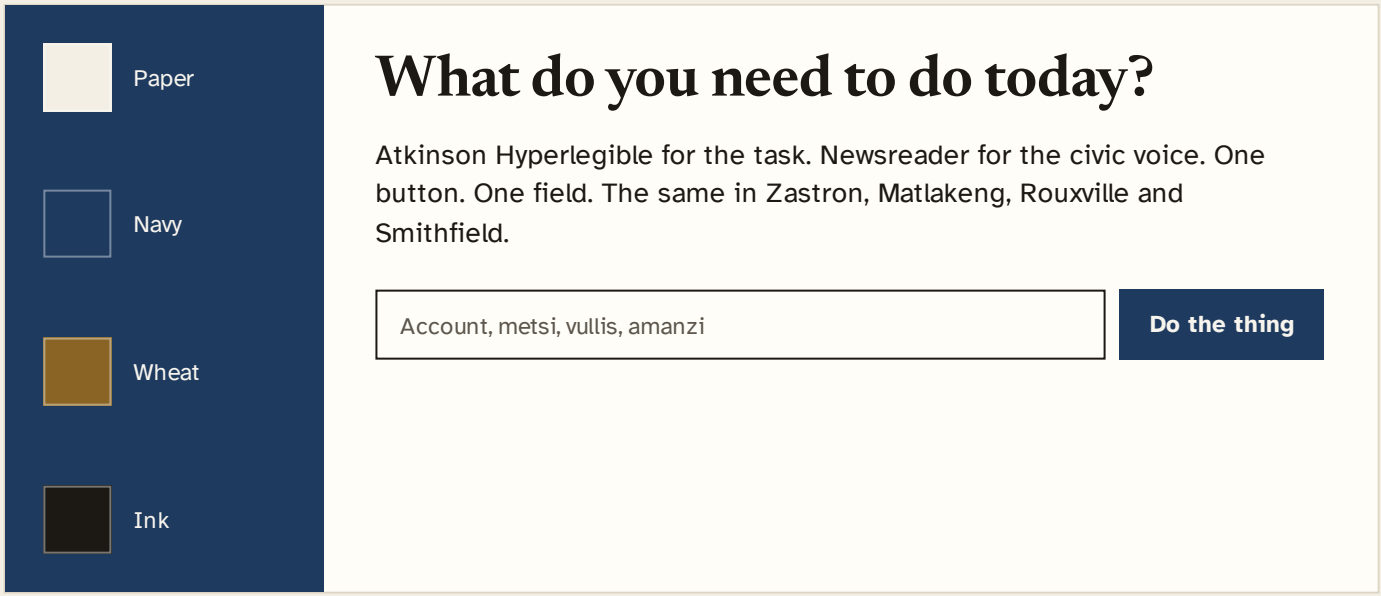

The information architecture, written, and already visible in the specimen. Primary paths are intentions. Departments stay in the record and in the footer, where an auditor looks, not where a pensioner looks. A new task joins an existing sentence before it earns a new menu. Matlakeng, Rouxville and Smithfield are the same municipality as the dorp.

LINE 04 OF 21

Civic design system

The system itself: one type, one set of colours, one form. High contrast and larger text are in the header, not buried. The Eye sits in the hero because the town is under it.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

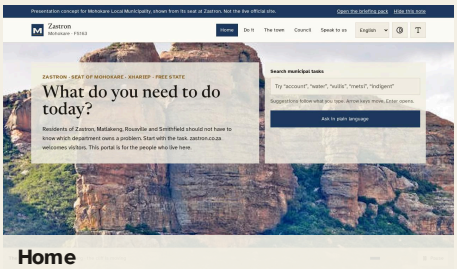

One type (Newsreader for the civic voice, Atkinson Hyperlegible for the task), one colour set taken from paper, navy and wheat, and one pattern for a form, a notice and a button. High contrast and larger text are part of the system. WCAG 2.2 AA is the acceptance test. The next unit office does not get a second visual language. The cinematic hero — still, crossfade, and the cliff clip — is this system, not a tourism reel bought on the side.

Speak to us

The five templates, captured from the working specimen on 25 October 2026. Built to ship, not drawn as pictures of pages.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

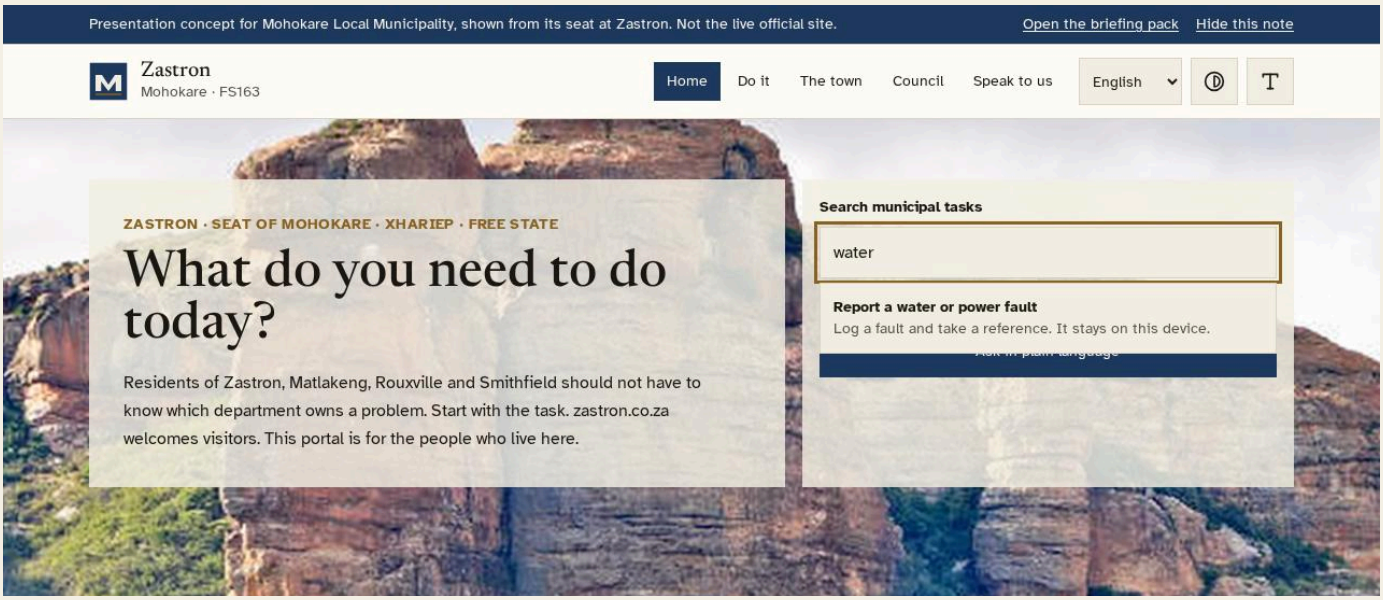

Home, Do it, The town, Council, and Speak to us. A communications officer can put a new notice, a new task or a new office-bearer into the same frame. Included: the phone layout, the installable page for a prepaid handset, the sights strip under the hero, and the eight resident tasks already on the specimen (account, fault, refuse day, indigent, a notice, a stand or building plan, a burial, a PAIA request). Excluded is a sixth, decorative page.

LINE 06 OF 21

Search with municipal suggestions

Typing “water” on the home page. The suggestion is a task, in the resident’s words, not a list of directorates.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

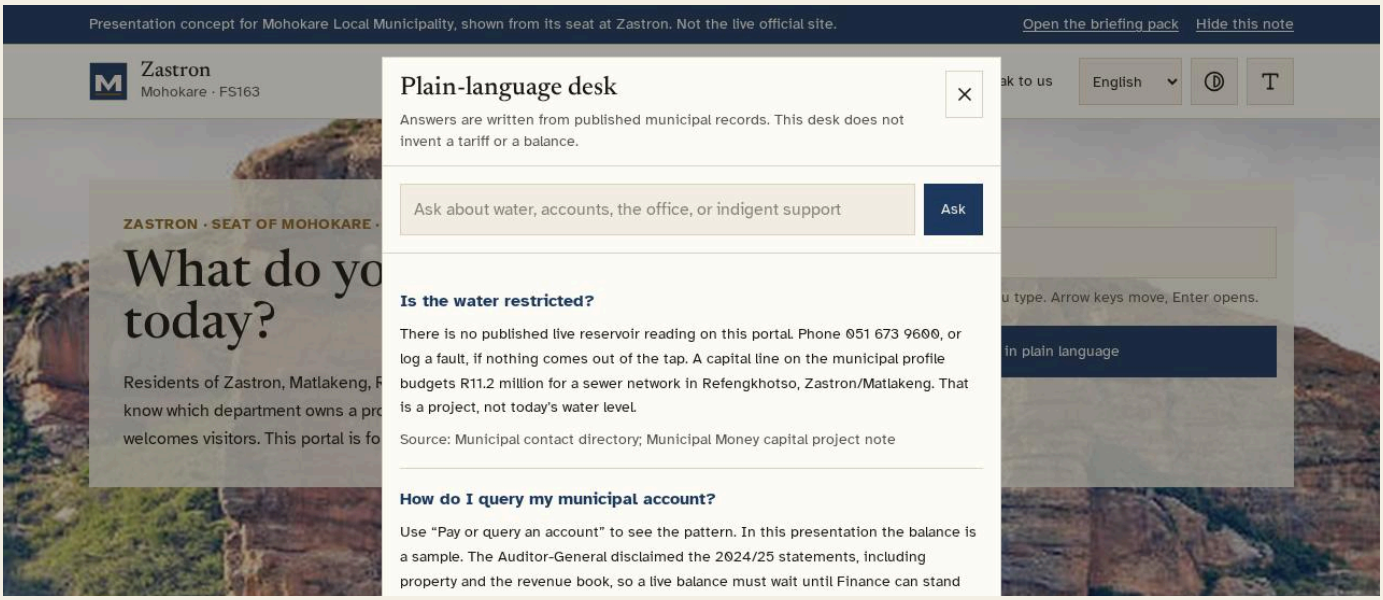

Auto-suggest across English, Afrikaans, Sesotho and isiXhosa terms already in the task list, including metsi, vullis and amanzi. The search bar is the front door. A suggestion opens a task rather than a PDF.

LINE 07 OF 21

Plain-language desk

The desk, open on the working pages. It answers from a curated list and names its source. It does not invent a tariff or a balance.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

Answers written from documents Council already owns, each with the question in four languages and a source line. The desk refuses a balance, a tariff and a date it has not been given. A live language model is not in this line. It remains an option, priced outside the ask, and only after the document library is clean enough to constrain it.

LINE 08 OF 21

Four-language interface

The same home page in Afrikaans. Sesotho and isiXhosa switch from the same control. Seven in ten people in the Zastron count speak Sesotho at home. Council records stay in English.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

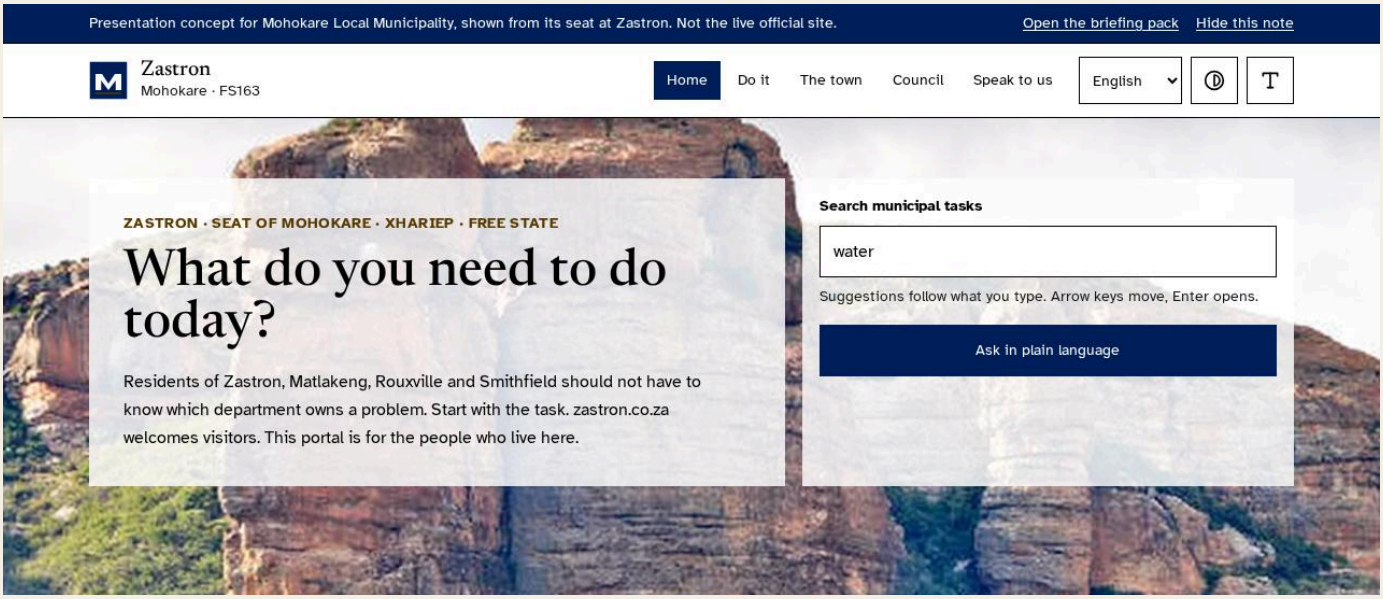

English, Afrikaans, Sesotho and isiXhosa on every primary task and on the chrome of the site: navigation, search, forms, errors. The rate is lower because a large part of this line is translation craft, not engineering. Legal certification of the translations is excluded. Council commissions a sworn translator if a by-law requires it.

Accessibility pass

High contrast, switched on. Larger text sits on the same bar. The task list is still the task list.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

A keyboard-only journey through the five templates, a contrast and focus check, screen-reader labels, and the skip link. This line includes repairing what the pass finds in the pages we build. It does not include remediating mohokare.gov.za or zastron.co.za.

Content: notices, tasks, chronicle, the desk

FROM THE DESK

"A resident should not have to know which office owns the problem. Say it in Sesotho, isiXhosa, Afrikaans or English: pay, report, register, or read. If this office cannot stand behind a balance, it will say so, and it will not invent one. Matlakeng, Rouxville and Smithfield are the same municipality. The door is still the Civic Centre on Hoofd Street. This page should make the walk shorter."

Mr L. Mkhwane · Municipal Manager

Mr L. Mkhwane, municipal manager, on the working home page, with the sentence from his desk. The portrait is part of the specimen. Print rights for a letterhead are confirmed with his office before go-live.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

Plain-language writing from documents Council already holds: the notices, the eight task descriptions, the chronicle of Zastron, Matlakeng, Rouxville and Smithfield, and the desk quote of the municipal manager. Each public claim keeps its date and its source. The briefing pack (DOC-01 to DOC-03) is the seed. This line does not include a new history of the district, and it does not invent a mayor's name where the directories do not agree.

Training in Zastron

Plate drawn for this quotation. The two days are with the communications desk, in Zastron, on the pages they will actually publish.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

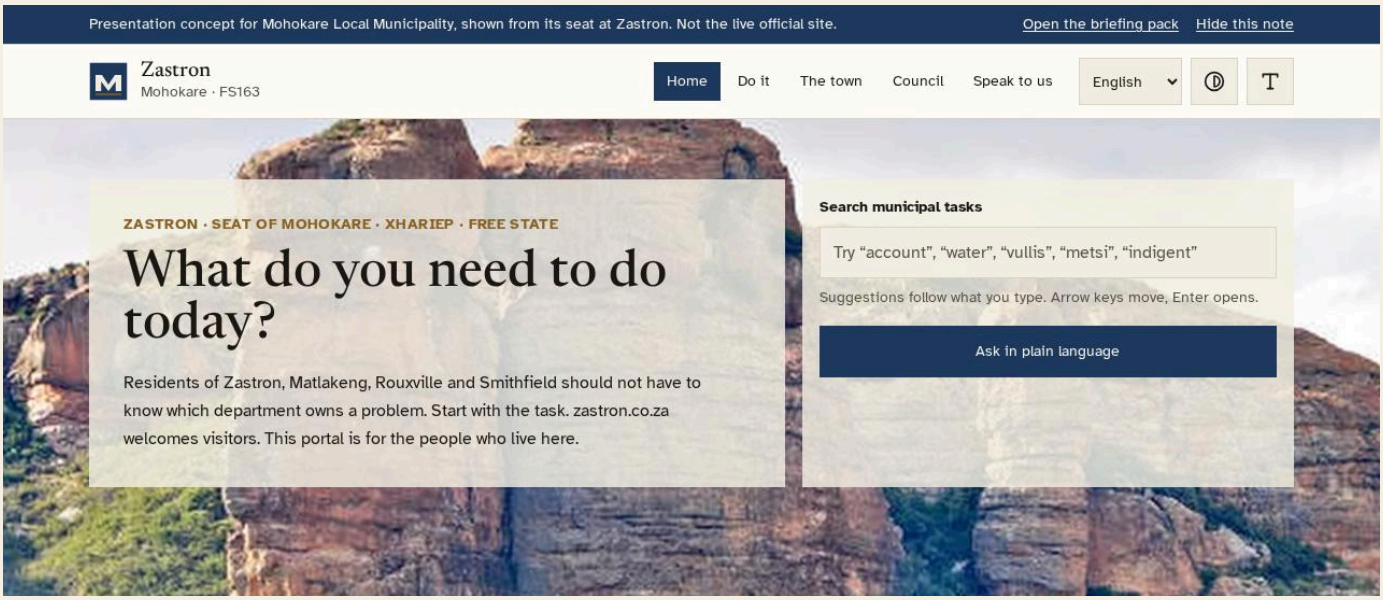

Two days with the communications desk. By the end, a person who is not a developer can publish a notice, correct a translation, and retire a page. The library is the short operating card: the ten ordinary updates, and the list of changes that still need Sabela Logic. Travel sits under disbursements, not in this line.

Launch and 30-day hypercare

The public face at launch: the Eye, with the task in front of it. Hypercare is the month of same-week fixes after go-live. Hosting is stood up on Cloudflare Workers.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

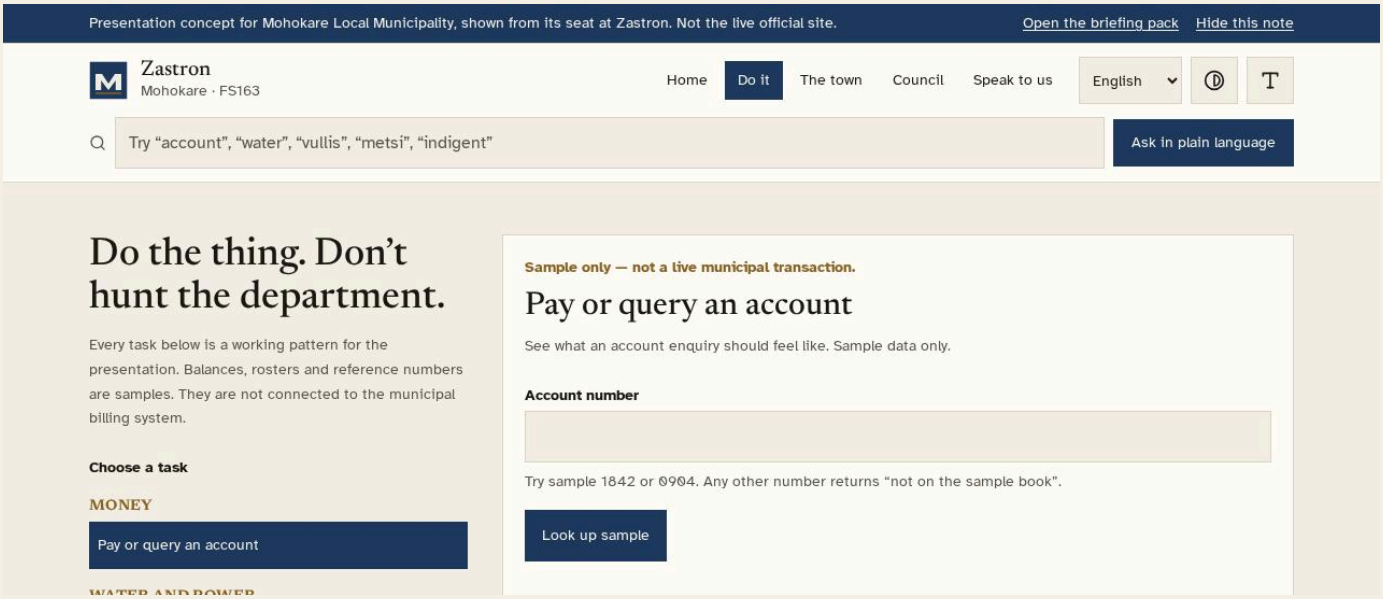

DNS advice, redirects from the thin pages worth keeping, a launch checklist, production hosting cut-over, and thirty days of same-week fixes. The installable phone page is checked on a prepaid handset before the month starts. Hosting after the month is the care line, not this one.

LINE 13 OF 21

Account lookup, read-only

The pattern, with sample households only. The screen says it is not a live municipal transaction. A real balance waits on a billing cleanse.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

The read-only account screen, built properly once Finance can stand behind a figure. The Auditor-General disclaimed an opinion on the 2024/25 statements and could not confirm the book behind a public balance. This line starts with the cleanse boundary: what may be shown, what must stay off the public screen, and a pilot against data Finance has reconciled. It is not a new billing system. The specimen’s sample balances are not this deliverable.

LINE 14 OF 21

Fault desk with area routing

Report a fault, name the area, take a reference. The reference is the point: “I phoned” becomes a record.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

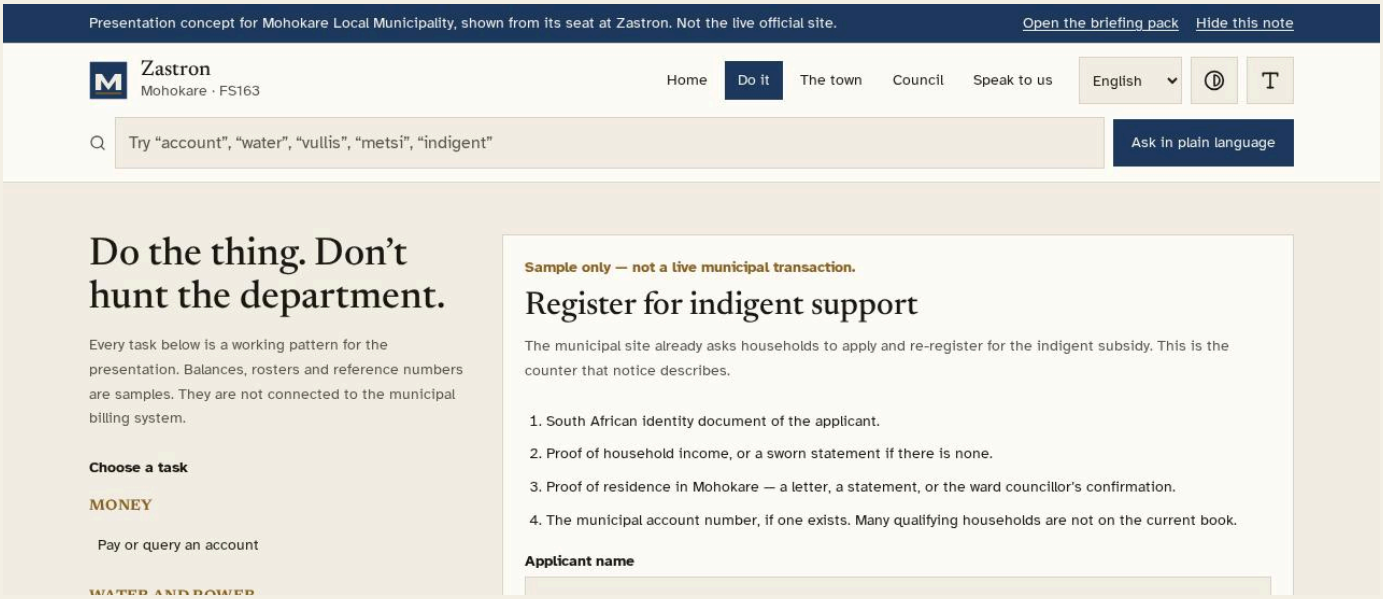

A fault with a reference number, an area (Zastron dorp, Matlakeng, Rouxville, Smithfield), a category, and a status the resident can be told. The library is the workflow, the status words, and an export for the technical desk. SMS is prepared for, not bought: airtime and the gateway are excluded.

LINE 15 OF 21

Indigent registration workflow

The application, the checklist, and the sentence that a real register needs an owner inside Council before it is switched on.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

Application, document checklist, status, and an export the register clerk can reconcile to the book. Aimed at a register that the public record treats as stale. The library includes the statuses and the reconciliation file. It does not include the policy decision of who qualifies. That remains Council’s. The workflow is not switched on until the indigent desk has a named owner.

LINE 16 OF 21

Document library

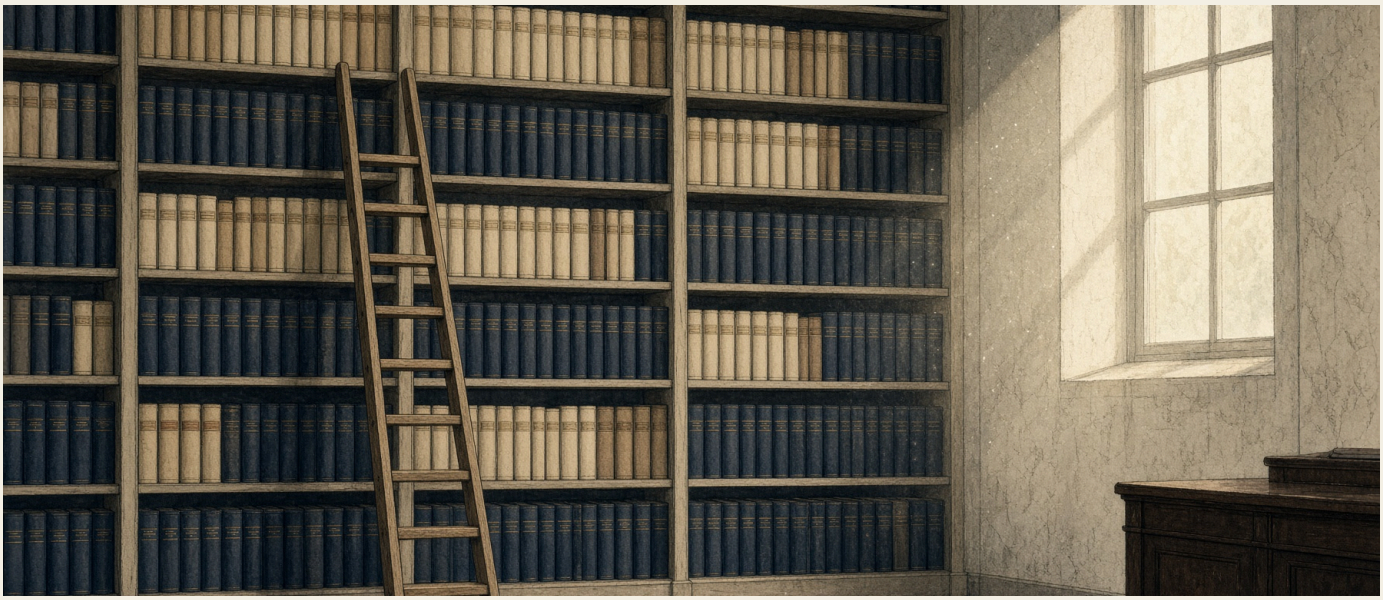

Plate drawn for this quotation. The library on the site is plainer than a shelf: one list, each file dated, each file the one in force.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

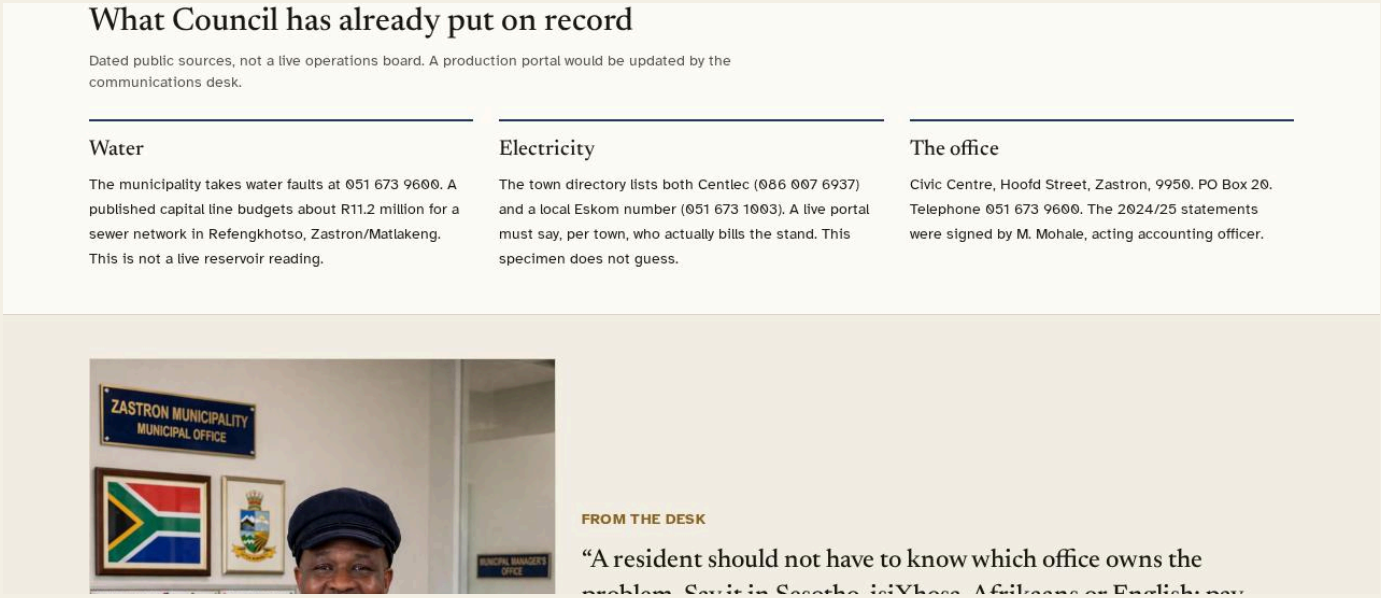

IDP, SDBIP, tariffs, by-laws, the Auditor-General action plan, and the indigent policy, in one list. Each item carries the date it came into force and the file that replaces it. The first load is the documents Council hands over. Hunting for the current tariff stops being a corridor conversation. Tariff files spelled more than one way on the present site are retired to a single current file.

Notices desk for communications

Notices as the resident should meet them: dated, sourced, and allowed to expire. The desk is how communications puts the next one up without a developer.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

The tool behind the notices. The communications desk publishes, sets an expiry, and attaches the Afrikaans, Sesotho and isiXhosa lines without waiting for a developer. On the government directory that desk is Letlhogonolo Mafatman. A notice past its date leaves the public page. This line assumes line 08's language fields already exist.

LINE 18 OF 21

Billing integration specification

Plate drawn for this quotation. Two cabinets, one ribbon. A written join between the public portal and the financial system. Not a new ERP.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

A specification, and a thin pilot, written only after Finance can explain the billing report. It names the fields that may cross, the fields that must not, the audit trail, and the vendor interface if one exists. If the financial-system vendor will not open an interface, the line stops at the specification and Council is told, in writing, rather than sold a promise.

LINE 19 OF 21

Water and outage board

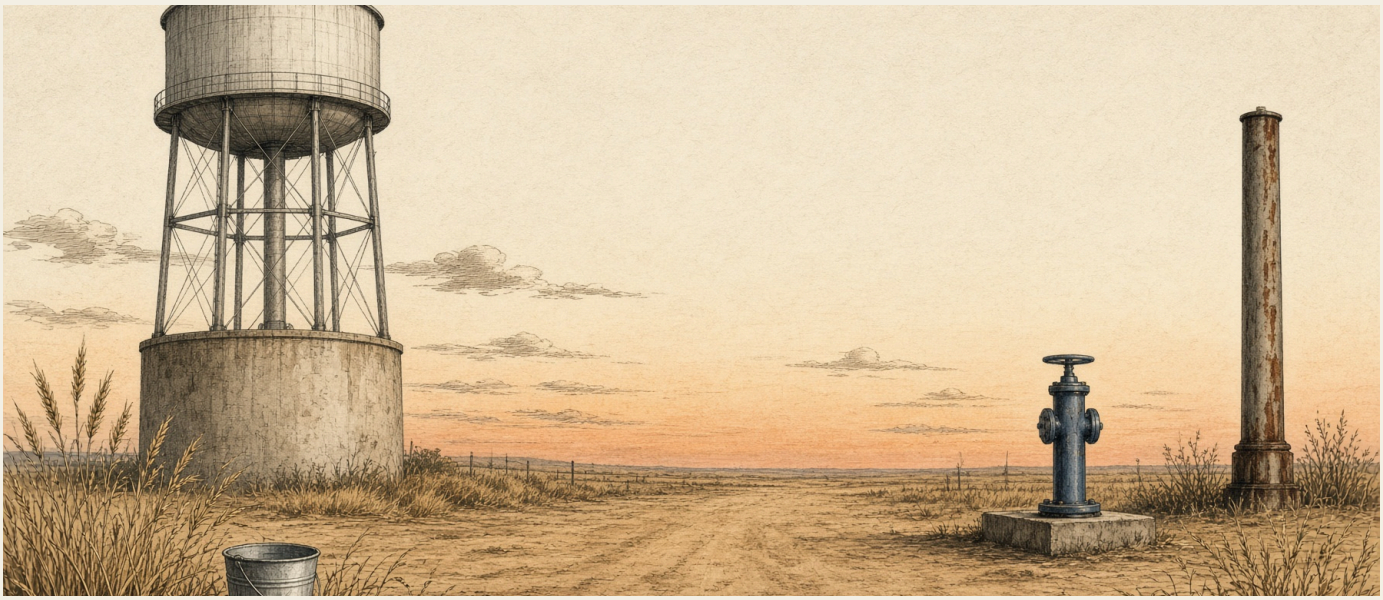

Plate drawn for this quotation. The board itself is a page a technician can update, with a time on it, so yesterday's restriction does not become today's rumour.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

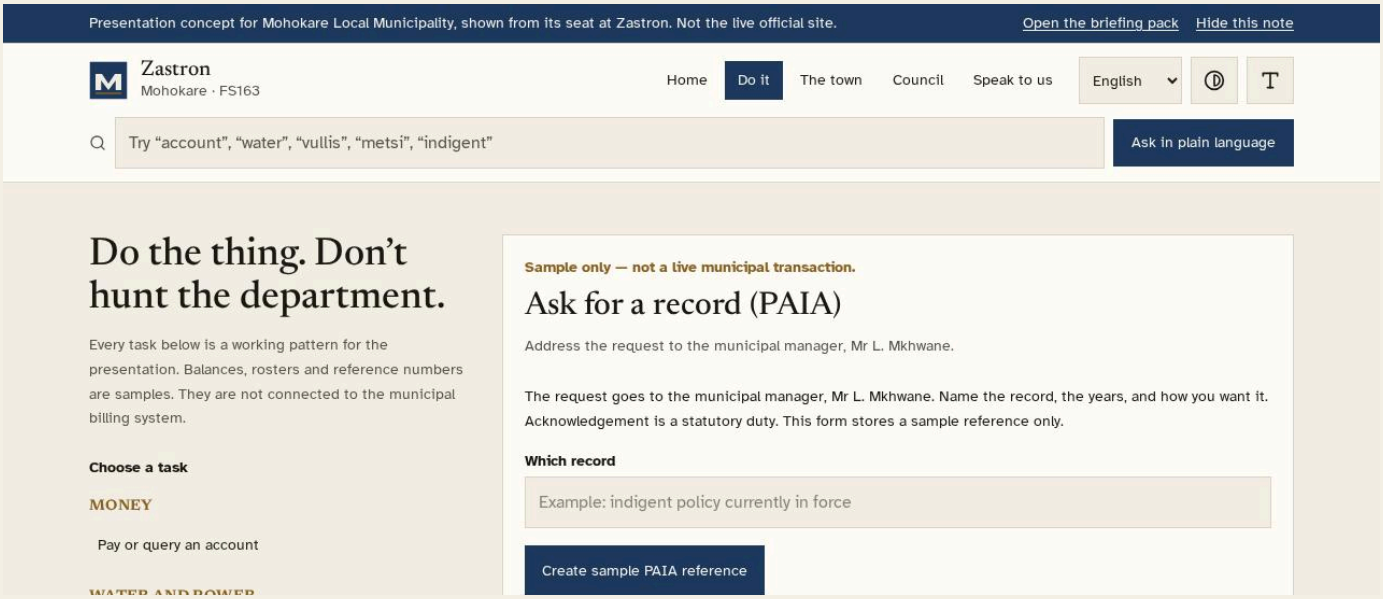

A single board for a closed line, a plant, a restriction, and a planned return, across Zastron, Matlakeng, Rouxville and Smithfield. Every entry has a time and a name. An entry expires instead of lingering. The specimen already shows the pattern for water, power and the office. This line makes it a board a technician can update. It does not repair a pipe, and it does not settle the sewer project noted for Refengkhotso.

PAIA channel

Ask for a record, and keep the reference. The request is addressed to the municipal manager, Mr L. Mkhwane.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

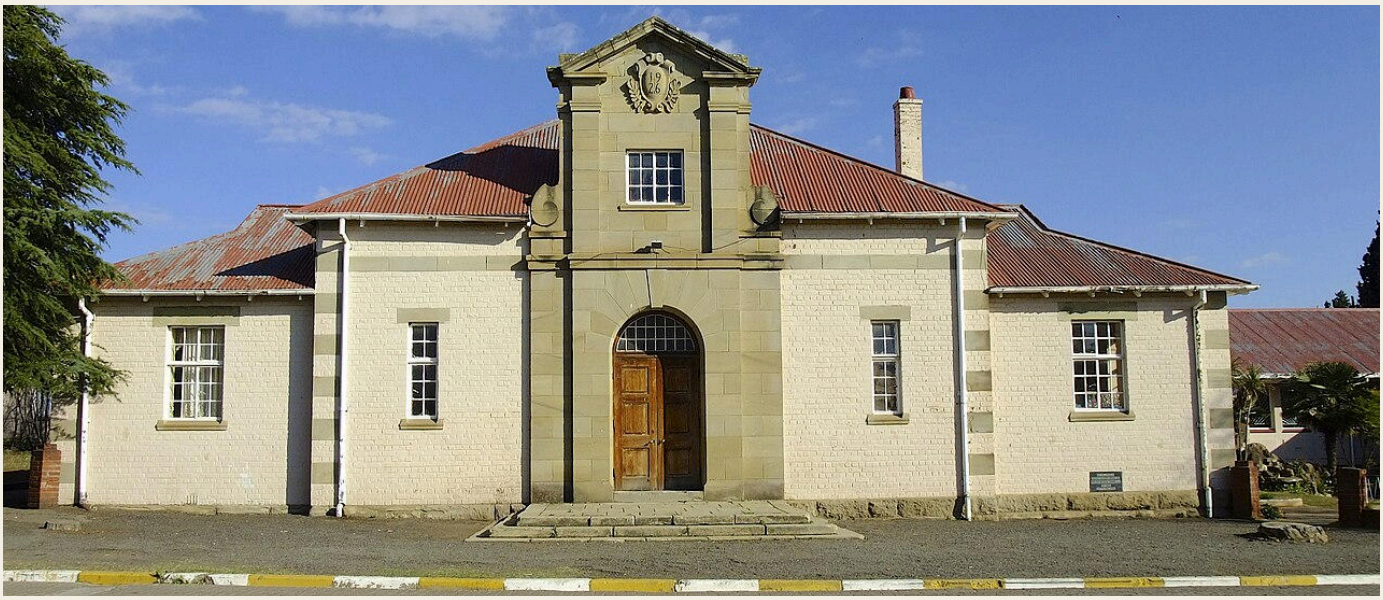

A tracked request to the municipal manager, with the statutory acknowledgement and a status the requester can be given. The library is the form, the reference, and the hand-off. The officer is not replaced by the form. The channel does not decide what must be released.

Twelve months of care

The public building used as the seat plate for Zastron. It is not part of the fee. Hosting for the year sits on Cloudflare Workers: patches, uptime, and four hours a month for the communications desk.

WHAT THIS LINE PUTS IN THE LIBRARY

Hosting on Cloudflare Workers, security patches, and four hours a month for the communications desk, for twelve months. Billed monthly in advance. Unused hours do not roll into development and do not accumulate as a credit. The library is the monthly note: what was patched, what communications asked, and what was refused because it was a new build. A new build is a new line, not a quiet use of the care hours.

	VAT 15%, additional	R 180 870
	Total including VAT, if the full programme is awarded	R 1 386 670

The professional-fee ask is R 1 205 800. VAT at 15% is R 180 870. If Council awards the full programme, the tax-inclusive figure is R 1 386 670. Phase A alone is R 663 000. Phase A plus twelve months of care is R 751 800, excluding VAT.

COMMERCIAL

How the ask is paid, and what it is not.

If Council takes the full programme

Professional fees R 1 205 800, excluding VAT. Payment of those fees: 40% on acceptance (R 482 320), 40% on design sign-off (R 482 320), 20% on launch of the phase then in build (R 241 160). Care is billed monthly in advance and is not part of the 40/40/20.

If Council takes the gateway first

Phase A plus twelve months of care is R 751 800, excluding VAT. The same 40/40/20 applies to Phase A. Phases B and C can be awarded later against this specification. They are not a discount for being deferred, and they are not an obligation.

Excluded from every total above

- Certified sworn translations.
- SMS airtime and the message gateway.
- Financial-system licences, and any integration a vendor will not open.
- A visitor layer to replace the tourism pages on zastron.co.za, R 42 000 if Council asks for it later. The constituent portal does not depend on it.
- A live language model, R 64 000 to stand up, usage at cost. Not recommended while tariffs and balances cannot be stood behind.
- Disbursements for two working trips to Zastron, estimated R 16 800, at cost, against receipts.

Ownership

Intellectual property in the design system and the code passes to the municipality on receipt of the final invoice of the phase being paid for. Sabela Logic may show the work as a case study without publishing a resident’s data. This demonstration holds none.

Procurement

Award must follow the municipal supply-chain policy and the MFMA. If the value sits above the written-quotation threshold, it belongs on a competitive process. This walkthrough can be the specification. Validity is 60 days from 25 October 2026. The three towns and Matlakeng are inside the ask.
